Re: Update

Just a short update today! Big grant application in process, but wanted to touch base with everyone. Enjoying the sunshine that is out right now. The rain can stop any time! This sundial at Raven Hill was created and installed by the 2010 Leadership Little Traverse group. Thanks to them, you can tell the time by the sun's shadow. Our sundial has two sets of numbers, so you can tell the time whether it is Eastern Standard Time or Daylight Savings Time! Since the sun is pretty much directly overhead, the shadow is pretty short, but it is there! Look closely!

AND, the Observation Wall is complete in the Print Shop. The antique type cases, linotype and letter press are uncovered and ready for visitors to view! Making forward progress! Always something to do!
