Photo Journal: Periodic Room July 20, 2020

Enjoy some of my favorite photos from the past! Look for other favorites every day to cheer you and make you smile in these times of isolation and uncertainty.

You guessed it! The Periodic Room contains a 3D Periodic Table of the Elements, including the Noble gases, like Helium and Neon, which light up, when 5000 volts of electricity is used.

This trumpeter swan has an 8-foot wingspan!

What better room for planishing copper pendants than the Periodic Room!
